------------	--

Deerfield Insurance Company wishes to file the enclosed forms for a Pet Healthcare Policy benefiting the owners of dogs and cats.

This insurance coverage would indemnify the pet owner for medical expenses incurred for the treatment of injuries, illness and preventative care (when applicable) that occur during the policy term. The aging baby boom generation and their affinity to pet ownership combined with the increasing sophistication and availability of veterinarian medicine has made pet healthcare a more likely alternative as pet's age and suffer inevitable medical problems. We believe that financing such care through Pet Healthcare insurance will become an increasingly attractive alternative to what might otherwise be material out-of pocket expense or worse, the painful choice to euthanize a pet.
